Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's response to the restriction requirement mailed 11/13/2006 has been considered.
2. It appears that the applicant is confused about restriction requirement mailed 11/13/2006. Applicant's election is based on thinking that the restriction is for invention: I) receiving medical data and comply with DICOM and; II) receiving medical data but not comply with medical data.

Actually, the restriction is between the inventions that I) medical data being processed; received medical data, extracting patient and study information for the medical data, and processing the received medical data to comply with DICOM; and II) medical data not being processed; a data recording method that does not requires received medical data, extracting patient and study information for the medical data, and processing the received medical data to comply with DICOM.

Invention I belong in the area of medical field such as class 705 subclass 3, and requires search queries such as medical and DICOM.

Invention II belong in the area of 358/403 and does not require queries medical.

Although the examiner have already searched for invention I previously, each time the examiner act on the case would requires further updated search to look for references that was not available in the searched database provided by the office during the previous search. Accordingly, the examiner must conduct a search regardless of which species is being elected. Therefore, restricting the applicant to the invention that was previously presented is not fair to the applicant if the examiner is required to conduct a new search regardless of which species is elected. If the examiner is not required to conduct for a new search for previously presented invention, this application would be restricted to the invention previously presented.

Since the applicant added new invention into the claims, the applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits.

Because the applicant elected species II for prosecution due to confusion, the applicant is asked to re-elect a species to be examined after the clarification by the examiner.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

I. Species of the embodiment disclosed on page 8, lines 1-16; specifically, the species directed to: medical data being processed; received medical data, extracting patient and study information for the medical data, and processing the received medical data to comply with DICOM (claims 15-18).

II. Species of the embodiment disclosed on page 10, lines 19-22; specifically, the species (modification and variation) directed to: medical data not being processed; a data recording method that does not requires received medical data, extracting patient and study information for the medical data, and processing the received medical data to comply with DICOM (claims 19, 20).

Art Unit: 2625

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
